

Previous Information

The purpose of the Retail Mind, Lda website, hereafter RM, is to provide general and informative content. This website should not be used or relied upon as a substitute for information that has been provided to you by RM.

RM makes every effort to ensure that the information on this website is correct and up to date. However, their accuracy cannot be guaranteed and RM accepts no responsibility for the accuracy, completeness or authenticity of any information on this website.

RM further reserves the right to make changes at any time without notice in relation to products and services referred to on this website.

The RM website is governed by these Terms and Conditions and by using our website, the visitor and/or user is expressly accepting them.

Therefore, if you do not agree with the present Terms and Conditions you should not use this website.

Intellectual Property

The content of this website, including trademarks, designs, logos, text, images, audio and video materials, is the property of RM, unless otherwise indicated by reference to its source, and is protected under general law and by national and international legislation on the protection of intellectual property. You may not display, reproduce, distribute, modify, transmit or use the content of this website in any way for any public or commercial purpose without the prior express written consent of RM.

You may only use the information, text, pictures or graphics contained in this website for your personal use, and never for commercial purposes, and must not reproduce, modify, transmit, authorise or publish such information, in whole or in part, for any purpose without RM's prior written consent.

Treatment of Personal Data

Navigation through this website may not involve the provision of personal data. However, RM provides, on this website, a subscription form to the Business Essentials Newsletter, the completion of which implies the provision of personal data, although its use is safeguarded under the terms provided for in the respective form and protected by our Privacy Policy.

For any questions regarding the treatment of your data, please contact us to the contacts indicated in this site, section contacts.

Use of Cookies

RM uses 'cookie' technology to help determine the usefulness, interest and number of uses of the website, allowing faster and more efficient browsing as well as eliminating the need for the user to repeatedly enter the same information.

Cookies are software tags that are stored in the access equipment, through the browser, retaining only information related to your preferences and do not include, as such, your personal data.

All browsers allow the user to accept, reject or delete cookies, namely by selecting the appropriate settings in the respective browser.

Data Security

RM has technical and organisational procedures in place in order to prevent security breaches and improper access to personal data as well as their unlawful destruction or use.

Despite all its efforts RM cannot guarantee the full and absolute inviolability of the information received, given the insecure nature of open networks such as the Internet.

RM is not responsible for damage resulting from viruses or other elements which are equally dangerous for your computer.

Final Provisions

RM reserves the right to change these Terms and Conditions at any time without notice and we therefore advise you to visit this page regularly to review the information contained on the website and any additional information.

The manner in which you use this website and the content therein is solely at your own risk.

These Terms and Conditions are governed by Portuguese law.
